

Every day,
in some way,

Katherine Shorter is...

Katherine loves to throw a party and figure out ways to do it on a budget! This little business was born out of a love for crafting and utilizing that talent to personalize her wedding. With no fear of getting her hands dirty, she finds out what works (and what misses the mark) when it comes to crafting, baking and trying out consumer projects. Operating with the thought that honesty is the best policy, she shares the pros and cons of products and experiences. The blog shares relevant tips and information on making an event or project something you're proud to call your own! Being transparent in both accomplishments and struggles, Katherine shares motivational posts addressing and dealing with real emotions to help keep family, friends and the blogging community supported, encouraged and engaged toward their purpose in life. Sharing both her decorated cookies and crafting skills, Katherine finds joy working hand in hand with clients, and planners alike, to help make their events the best it can be!
